FRANKFORT PLACES FIRST IN LIGHT DIVISION BASKETBALL

ABOUT THIS — AND — ABOUT THAT

By OLIVER GEDEIST

A Bit of Sense

Do not take too much encouragement from it, but it is nice to see our Russian friends lose a bit of their truculency in face of positive action by American and British forces, along with the weak French forces. Russia is like a big bully. A bully picks on the weak, but is likely to fold up, at least for a moment, when he comes up with a stronger character.

His Reason

Recently I wanted to find out how Negro people looked at the President's recommended "equality" legislation. Some of those interviewed reflected their radical leanings and wanted direct action to "take" their rights. Few knew about details in the legislation. Fortunately these were in the minority. Some favored the legislation as helping their cause "if it does not stir up too much hatred." I shall quote one who reflected the generally expressed opinion of the well-informed Negroes interviewed.

Wants Rights

"I am not in favor of the legislation Mr. Truman asks," he said. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, he said. "Ever been in the South?" I asked. "Yes, I go every year to Virginia and Georgia," he replied. "Do you think southerners are fair to the Negro?" "That," he replied, "is not exactly the way to ask the question. The southerners are fair in their way. It is a big problem and it will take the best minds and the greatest hearts of both races to work out the problem."

"But," I persisted, "what about the South's not allowing Negroes to enter many of the eating places, about keeping them separated in other places, and don't you feel humiliated when you are kept from the nice places?" Then he hit a thing that hurts Negroes more, according to his viewpoint. He said: "I am more humiliated when I enter places in Chicago and other northern cities where I am supposed to be allowed, but where service is denied or where I and my friends are ignored." He mentioned several places in Chicago where he had been embarrassed, as had others of the Negro race. He went on: "In the South, we know where to go. Up here we know where we are supposed to go, but we often find that we can't get in or can't get served if we do go in."

This man was in the navy during the war. He added a bit of interesting information. Although he was a northern-born Negro, when assigned to sleeping quarters aboard ship, he asked a white fellow to take the most comfortable sleeping place. "Why should I?" the white fellow asked. "Because you are white," the northern Negro told him. The Negro kept the best sleeping place. He and the white boy became pals. Each rescued the other in the course of the war after injuries had been sustained in battle. I saw some of their correspondence. The white boy is a successful southern man, lives in Georgia. The Negro visits the white man in Georgia every year and is a guest in the white man's home.

The Way Out

There is a way out of the race mess. These two men have shown the way. But there are so few of their standard of good sense, that we will chase all over creation to keep from showing their kind of good sense.

COUNTY GOP URGES HEAVY VOTE IN NEXT TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

"Tuesday is primary election day in Will County. Be sure to vote."

This plea was made to the voters and particularly to the Republicans this week by leaders of the GOP party in the community. Unless the voters go to the polls in large numbers in this and other down-state communities, Chicago may out-vote these sectors and win control of the state central committee, it was pointed out. The number of votes in each district determines who will be the chairman of the state central GOP committee.

With candidates for five county officers to be nominated, the Will County Central Republican organization this year failed to endorse men in the primary. Four incumbents are without opposition, with the race centering on the nomination for coroner. Seeking the post are Willard Blood and Dr. Gregory Carey. Candidates to succeed themselves are Paul Wunder, circuit clerk; Robert Spreitzer, county recorder; James Burke, state's attorney; and Herman Grassie, county auditor.

At least $10,000 in damage was done in New Lenox late Wednesday afternoon when a hop-hit-and-skip twister roaring like a fast train hit the village.

Roofs, chimneys, windows, and garages were the worst sufferers. The home of Dean Bright had the added loss of paint on the south side of the house, where the force of the wind drove small particles so far into the siding they were lost.

It came like the roar of a train, according to Chuck Gilgen, who watched the two-minute twister do its damage and disappear. Most of the damage was to houses on North Cedar road, beginning with the home of Mrs. Annie Parsons, whose garage was picked up from the foundation and tossed about 60 feet to the north.

Several described the twister as a tunnel-shaped cloud, while others simply knew there was a roaring wind.

Mrs. Parsons' roof was damaged, as was, also, that of Dean Bright, where the garage was lifted and tossed 70 feet north, the walls crumbling and leaving the roof intact. A 275-pound generator was picked up by the wind and thrown eight feet away, in an upright position, while smaller articles were left in place.

The former Brownlee home, now vacant, had two chimneys blown down and severe damage to the roof, while the chicken house was destroyed on the property of Mrs. Viola Korp. Damage was done to the garage of Henry Miner on Hawthorne street. Many other homes sustained various degrees of damage.

Chuck Gilgen reported that his electric clock stopped exactly at 4:54 p. m. Light and power service was out of use for a short time.

It was believed this storm was the same one that earlier hit Morris and Manhattan, reportedly doing much damage. It hit New Lenox at the ball park and traveled northeasterly.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Ezekiel 18; 34; 36:22-38; 37:1-14.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Ezekiel 34: 23-31.

His Message to Exiles

Lesson for April 11, 1948

CONTINUING the theme of last Sunday's lesson, we go further into the ministry of Ezekiel as God's messenger to a people in exile. For this Sunday we have chapters 18 and 34, and portions of the 36th and 37th chapters.

The 18th chapter opens with a revealing rebuke to Ezekiel. God tells him expressly that he is not to say any more to the Jews that "the fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge. As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine." And then God adds, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die."

Dr. Newton

children's teeth are set on edge. As I live, saith the Lord God, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel. Behold, all souls are mine." And then God adds, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die."

GOD'S LOVE AND CARE

ALL through these chapters in Sunday's lesson, two solemn truths appear—God's love for his people, manifest in unwearied care; and the responsibility of each soul for the sin which such commits against God.

This truth, or these truths, I should say, are equally applicable for us today. As Ezekiel was sent to remind the people of God's love and care, so must we, early in our youth, accept the responsibility of accepting his love or rejecting his love.

We cannot claim his care if we despise his will. That is the message of Ezekiel for us.

WHAT GOD IS LIKE

NOWHERE in the Old Testament is the love of God more manifest and compelling than in Ezekiel 34:11-27. I hope that you will open your Bible to this passage. Here the Bible speaks in words that burn with the compassionate love of God for sinful souls.

"I will both search my sheep, and seek them out. As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and I will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day. . . . And I will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers."

One is reminded here of Jesus, when he said, "For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost."

A NEW HEART

A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you," Ezekiel 36:26.

Here we have, perhaps, the sublimest sentence in the prophecy of Ezekiel. God is speaking. Ezekiel is merely the messenger—the voice, as John the Baptist delighted to describe himself.

Ezekiel has faithfully declared that each individual is responsible unto God, and just as faithfully he has proclaimed God's love and care, and now he adds the third great truth, namely, that God waits to bestow the new heart and the new spirit to every repentant soul.

A new heart and a new spirit. That is what the Jews needed. That is what the world needs today—a new heart and a new spirit. Only God could give a new heart then, and only God can make such gift today.

EZEKIEL'S MESSAGE FOR US

WOULD we listen to Ezekiel today? He has the message we need above all other words that may be spoken. He called the Jews to repentance of sin. That is what America needs today. Boys and girls need it. Men and women need it. And just as God waited patiently to bestow the new heart and spirit to Israel in the long ago, so does he wait to grant us today a new heart and a new spirit.

"Our God, our help, in ages past,
Our Hope for years to come;
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home."

There's No Substitute

"I thoroughly believe in a university education for both men and women, but I believe that a knowledge of the Bible without a college course is more valuable than a college course without the Bible. Every man and woman has a thorough knowledge of the Bible may be truly called educated, and no other learning, or culture—no matter how extensive and elegant—can be a proper substitute."

Willard G. BLOOD

Republican Candidate for Office of Coroner of Will County

Facts Voters are Entitled to Know.

Willard G. Blood has had over 10 years experience as Deputy Coroner and was Chief Deputy Coroner prior to his entry into Military Service where he served 4 years and 9 months. Mr. Blood was promised his reappointment on his return from service. (Affidavit by Dr. E. A. Kingston. Quote "... that he will reappoint said Blood as Deputy Coroner immediately on his release from military service." Subscribed, sworn to and notarized.) This promise was not kept.

The Office of Coroner is NOT a doctor's job. Of 102 Counties in the State of Illinois, only 18 have doctors as Coroners.

The Coroner is summoned after a dead human body has been found.

(A doctor is not needed after death.)
The Coroner determines if inquest or autopsy is required.

(A doctor's decision is not needed.)
When the Coroner decides on an autopsy he will, if a doctor, perform same. When the Coroner is not a doctor, he will appoint a qualified pathologist, but at no additional expense to the taxpayer, as appropriations are paid by County, and there will not be the natural interest to have more autopsies than necessary.

The following, a public record, will show one reason a doctor wants to be Coroner. Quote, "For autopsies performed Nov. 25, 1947 to March 10, 1948, 28--$700.00" bill filed with County Clerk Mar. 12, 1948.

Willard G. Blood has always been a republican, and the Republican voters are asked Are you going to allow a retiring Coroner dictate and foster into Republican ranks an ex-democratic office seeker? (Statement of Candidacy and withdrawal filed in County Clerk's office and dated March 5, 1940.)

New Slipcovers Will Relieve Jaded Look of Tired Rooms

By Ertta Haley

SLIP covers, whether you are planning them as part of a redecorating scheme or using them to cover new furniture pieces done in muslin, are an important part of a dramatic decorating scheme, so it's a good idea to create styles that will enhance their surroundings.

Today, many newcomers to the homemaking ranks prefer to buy chairs, sofas or chaise lounge with only the muslin cover so they can use their own choice of style and fabric for either a traditional slip cover or a permanent slip cover to resemble the upholstery.

Even though you may be new to sewing, don't be afraid to tackle a slip cover project. The size need not overwhelm you as there is not much difficult sewing essential. And, if you want professional advice, there's a local sewing center which can give you latest decorating tricks and shortcuts to making them.

Plan Style, Select Fabric First

First decision in a sewing project of this type will be to decide the style you want to follow in decorating. After that you will know what to ask for in a fabric since patterns differ depending upon modern, 18th century or colonial.

Fabrics, you'll find, are plentiful, and there's a wide choice of floral, striped and plain designs running the gamut from miniature to over-size designs as well as the old stand-bys in plain color minus designs of any kind. Pick your fabric according to size of the furniture piece; suit the type of room as well as the size of the furniture to be covered.

It would be inadvisable, for example, to use a large, bold design for a large, overstuffed chair when a plain, small printed design would do more to minimize the chair size.

Classic styles are nice to use when your room is of moderate proportions, and here, when you do not have too much space, it's wise to select solid colors neither too bright nor bold.

Bold patterns are ideal for setting off plain wall backgrounds. Another bright note in today's fabrics are the colored, coordinated designs that enable the home seamstress to mix stripes, floral and plain designs and still carry out the general color scheme in the room.

As well as the room.

You might find it effective to carry out a sofa in a striped fabric, another chair in plain and still

Be Smart!

Mother calls them polo coats and grandmother's name was travel coats but call them anything you choose, they're still one of the nicest coat styles of any season. Big and comfortably enveloping, developed in many soft-surface coatings and lovely, gay colors, they depend on line and details such as collars, pockets, and/or cuffs for their smartness.

Spring Rayon Blouse

This attractive skirt and blouse combination is neat enough for office wear and feminine enough for an after-work date. The ruffled blouse is of soft, washable, one-denier spun rayon made of Avisco rayon yarns. The skirt is navy blue rayon crepe which goes with any of the new spring blouses.

another chair in plain with either floral or striped fabric for trimming.

If you have a very large couch you might cover that in a solid color and the pillow in floral or small stripes that are used elsewhere in the room, thus holding the decorative scheme together.

Select Cover By Furniture Type

The classic slip cover with box-pleated flounce is always popular for practically every type of furniture. However, if your sofa or chair has a streamlined appearance, you might try a straight flounce with practically no pleats at all or a straight skirt with inverted corner pleats. For informal rooms, early American setting, use a gathered flounce on chairs and sofa in keeping with the general atmosphere of the room.

If your slip cover job is limited to antimacassars or miniature slip covers that cover back and arms of chairs, you'll follow the general procedure used in slip cover making. You will, however, have to give additional thought to fabric selection for the project since most of the original furniture piece covering will be in plain view. Avoid color or texture clashes.

Procedure Given For Actual Work

After you've decided on type of cover, take measurements to estimate yardage. Consider width of fabric selected in the final calculation. Generous estimates will give best results and three inch tuck-in allowance where fabric receives strain is essential. You will need a three-quarter inch allowance for seams.

Follow measurements for cutting and leave generous seam allowances. Be sure to follow the grain of the fabric. Keep lengthwise on up and down; crosswise grain, crosswise chair.

Seams should appear wherever there is one in the original upholstery. Otherwise, the finished cover will not fit with the precision it should.

Finish With Trim Of Cording or Fringe

Before joining the sections of slip cover, make trimming for seams and bottom edge. Applique cut-out flower clusters across back, seat or arms will have decorative appeal. The zigzag attachment on the sewing machine can be used for this stitching job.

To give a corded finish to slip covers, make a welting and use it to join slip cover sections and bottom edge of plain box finish. Welting is a cotton cord covered with a bias strip of material. Cut bias one and one-half to one and three-quarters of an inch wide, depending upon cord used. Place cord in center of bias strip. Fold strip over, bringing the edges together.

Stitch close to the cord with cording foot attachment on sewing machine. The same fabric as used in the chair or sofa can be used for this finish or it can be contrasting.

Closings for slip covers should be slide fasteners. Insert them at side of back leg, applying it as you would on a packet.

Touch of Elegance

A touch of ruffle either for day or evening is good and currently the vogue. It's being seen in abundance on petticoats, dressmaker swim suits, blouses and new print dresses. The ruffle may be self fabric, crisp white organdie, embroidery, lace or contrasting solid color.
